

record BDE-D

special solutions

maintenance

centralised monitoring

security

Drive technology for pedestrian entrances and industrial applications

- Easy to set-up and use
- Easy-to-read text display with symbols
- Easy-to-read status indicators
- Intuitive user navigation
- Modern design

The BDE-D, record's new electronic remote control unit

Featuring a new easy-to-read, user-friendly graphic display, this unit has universal applications for the new generation of record doors

→ The record BDE-D remote control for automatic doors unit features an all-new, illuminated graphic display with intuitive user navigation and menus. Easy-to-understand symbols continually show current door status and thus enhance safety and security.

Easily selectable operating modes

The LCD display features powerful background lighting making door status information clearly and easily readable.

record

your global partner for entrance solutions

