

REPAIR & MAINTENANCE AGREEMENTS

Diamond 24⁷ are 'JT Automation Technology' UK's division which specialises in the repair and maintenance of automatic and manual door systems. From their offices strategically positioned they offer a competitive and reliable service in all areas of the UK. With a fleet of liveried vans positioned around the UK our trained engineers are on call to attend to emergencies 24 hours a day.

Planned Maintenance

As stated in the British Standards (BS7036) automatic door installations should be serviced regularly by trained and knowledgeable engineers. Apart from ensuring that you have a safe installation regular servicing will increase the lifetime you can expect to get from your equipment especially if you have a busy entrance opening and closing doors all day.

Diamond 24⁷ offer special discounts on maintenance agreements signed up during your warranty period with JT Automation, these agreements also have reduced rates for spare parts as well as reduced call out charges should you require an emergency call out for whatever reason.

Diamond 24⁷ can look after all types of automatic door systems and are not limited to looking after our products. Manual doors should also be regularly maintained, a loose uncontrolled manual door, where the closer has failed, has the potential to cause serious injury to anyone hit or trapped by it.

Should you wish to discuss what these offers please contact our sales department on 0845 299 7719.

Reactive Repairs

Diamond 24⁷ attend to reactive repairs to all types of commercial doors including all types of automatic doors, manual doors and roller shutters. With teams of repair engineers throughout the UK we can attend to doors in most cases on the same day. We also, through stocking our vans with common components attempt to complete repairs in one visit where possible.

As with servicing Diamond 24⁷ will attend to repairs and breakdowns of all types of automatic door systems and whilst we will not always have others relevant parts we are able to source these throughout the trade.
